

Healthy Klamath Meeting Agenda July 23, 2020

In attendance: Molly Jespersen, Cally McCool, Glenn Gailis, Kyle Chapman, Merritt Driscoll, Cord Van Riper, Martha Decker-Hall, Marc Kane, Lynda Daniel, Kendra Santiago, Maria Ramirez, Amanda Blodgett, Aislyn Ukpik, Katherine Silver, Valerie Franklin, Rhonda Nyseth, Jessie Hecocta, Susan Boldt, Michelle Scott, Johanna (Friends of the Children), Maggie Polson, Maria Ramirez, Michael Donarski, Robyn Pfeifer, Julionne DuBois, Jennifer Little, Jen Newton, Kelsey Mueller, Brian Moravec, Katherine Duarte, Hannah Hayes, Brittany Leggett, Marilyn Gran-Moravec

Agenda Item:	Notes:
COVID-19 Messaging Toolkit (Kendra Santiago)	Blue Zones Project is developing a COVID-19 messaging toolkit with OHA grant funds which will include social media posts, posters, flyers, videos, PSAs, and various materials for individuals and organizations. Looking to launch within the next two weeks and will reach out to Healthy Klamath network to see assistance in sharing among the community. Look for this update coming in the next few weeks.
Key to Oregon Study (Lynda Daniel)	OHSU is attempting to recruit 100,000 Oregonians for the Key to Oregon study that will help study COVID-19. 5,000 invitations have been sent in Klamath and Lake counties, but only 101 people are current participating. 9,000 Oregonians have signed up statewide. Part of the study may require participants to conduct confirmatory self-swab tests that will be developed by Oregon State Laboratory. Results will be shared with OHA and local public health, with contact tracing to follow as necessary. Lynda will be sending out an email about the Key to Oregon study to the Healthy Klamath partners/listserv. You can learn more by visiting Key to Oregon website or via email to Lynda Daniel at crockerd@ohsu.edu
Healthy Klamath Connect (Maria Ramirez)	Healthy Klamath Connect is the name of the Aunt Bertha platform in Klamath County with the goal of creating a single location for community referrals. The platform is now live and can be found at http://healthyklamathconnect.com. Next steps include visiting the site and “claiming” or “suggesting” your programs (see attached slide for more information). Maria Ramirez from CHA will be hosting a training webinar on August 20th, tentatively scheduled for 1pm. More information will be shared with the Healthy Klamath once details are finalized. Or Sign-up for the Healthy Klamath Connect listserv. For more information, email Maria Ramirez (mariar@casadecom.com) or Brittany Leggett (brittanyl@casadecom.com).
Tobacco Litter Prevention (Merritt Driscoll)	Blue Zones Project received grant funding to reduce tobacco litter in Klamath Falls. As part of this grant, BZP will implement four strategies: 1) review tobacco laws/ordinances, 2) place cigarette butt receptacles downtown, 3) distribute portable, pocket ashtrays, 4) raise public awareness about tobacco litter (billboard on Main St.; radio; newspaper). Nine Sidewalk Buttlers will be installed downtown near high litter areas, like Pinky’s, Library, etc on August 3 rd .
Parks as Nutrition Hubs (Taylor Hampton)	IYS is working to implement a nutrition hub in Mills that will serve as year-round nutrition hub in the heart of Klamath Falls. On August 25th, there will be a drive-thru “End of Summer Lunch” event at Mills Kiwanis Park. IYS is collecting information about food insecurity screening in Klamath Falls. Contact Taylor Hampton (taylorhampton@iyskfalls.org) if you have questions or food insecurity screening information.

Nutrition Oregon Campaign (Kelsey Mueller)	Community-wide nutrition campaign was selected as the priority in Klamath Falls. This will encompass gathering information from providers (OBs, midwives, pregnancy center, birthing center, etc.), training CHWs and lay professionals in the Developmental Origins of Health and Disease (DOHaD), and unify data collection.
Community Updates	Stillwaters Hospice House – Katherine Silver – a new project in Klamath County aimed at providing a place of comfort, safety, and dignity at the end of life regardless of the ability to pay. Newly received 501(c)3 status and working to develop fundraising. For more information, contact Katherine Silver at stillwatershospicehouse@gmail.com. Living Mindfully – Blue Zones Project and Sky Lakes Wellness Center are hosting a free virtual screening of “My Year of Living Mindfully.” Register and watch the documentary from Aug 15 – Sept 15. First 100 registrants will be entered to win a gift set. Klamath Basin Seniors’ Center – Annual Rummage Sale will be held at the KBSCC Bus Barn August 7th and 8th (likely 8:30am to early afternoon) DHS – Annual symposium will be held virtually to focus on Community Response to COVID-19 with sessions split over two days - August 12th and August 13th from 9am-noon each day. Look for more information from Rhonda Nyseth via Healthy Klamath listserv. Klamath Tribal Health & Family Services – Has been hosting an online MDSR diabetes prevention program which has been very well attended and many folks have realized improvements in health outcomes.
Next Meeting: September 24, 2020	